POLICE SEARCH FOR MRS. CZAPLA AGAIN

Woman Sentenced to Jail and Temporarily Released, Mysteriously Disappears.

Mrs. Czapla has again baffled the local authorities, and up to a late hour last night could not be located in the city. A nurse from the Visiting Nurses association made numerous visits to the Czapla home yesterday afternoon and night, but could find no trace of the woman.

Neighbors suggested a number of places where the woman might be found but when these places were visited, the authorities were told she had just left.

The Visiting Nurse association representative was sent in search of the woman in an effort to induce her to go to a hospital pending the birth of a child. Her attorney, Joseph V. Wyspienski, could not throw any light on her strange disappearance.

Mrs. Czapla was remained in the county jail but was released late Friday night after Dr. C. A. Thompson notified Judge DuComb of her condition.

Two Arrested and Booze Seized in Police Raids

A detail of local police in charge of Detective Sergeant Valentine Delinaki succeeded in obtaining small quantities of liquor in two raids staged yesterday afternoon and last night.

At the home of Joseph Kubala, 2201 Bertrand st., a small amount of "mule" was found in a jar hidden in the house. When Officer Kish discovered the liquor that will be used as evidence, Mrs. Kubala attempted to knock it from his hand.

Kubala was charged with the unlawful possession of liquor for the purpose of sale. Bonds of $500 were furnished.

The soft drink parlor of Cyril Van Steintash, 1402 W. Division st., was visited by the same detail late in the night. Van Steintash was arrested and charged with unlawful possession of liquor for the purpose of sale, for which he furnished bonds of $500.

Harrison Is Speaker at Fuller Brush Co. Banquet

J. A. Harrison, assistant manager of the Fort Wayne branch of the Fuller Brush Co., was the speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the sales force of the local branch, held Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Harrison talked on the subject of "Opportunity." The speaker recently completed a course in salesmanship training at the Fuller school at Hartford, Conn., and explained the opportunities offered in the school. O. A. Furley, South Bend branch manager, presided at the dinner. Brief talks by members of the sales department completed the session.

Three courses are offered, the Red, White and Blue. The Red course is for those who have never had previous training, and fits them for enlistment in the organized reserve as privates, while the White and Blue courses are for older men who have already had training. The latter courses fit men to become non-commissioned officers and officers in the organized reserve and the national guard.

Applications for the camp may be secured from Arthur B. Hunter from A. R. MacDonald or from John H. Dewitt. Any one of these three men is in a position to give full information to anyone contemplating attendance at the camp.

Physical examinations will be given free of charge by any of the following physicians who have been named by the government for this purpose: Dr. W. F. Mitchell, Dr. G. Geisler, Dr. T. F. Seymour, Dr. J. C. Bostwick, Dr. John C. Boone, Dr. J. S. Sprague, Dr. G. D. Kimball, Dr. Edwin J. Lent, Dr. M. W. Lyon, Jr., Dr. W. C. Farnham and Dr. Fred E. Clegg.

Two Thousand Youngsters Entertained by "Jester"

Two thousand South Bend youngsters were in ecstasy yesterday afternoon at the show of the Jester of the Child Health organization of New York in an entertainment at the Blackstone theater. The program was under the auspices of the Tuberculosis League, and Mrs. Mara Rhodes generously loaned the use of his playhouse for the occasion.

The children, supervised by school nurses and other health workers, learned many new things about health, sugar coated as the hygiene hints were in the capers of the Jester.

The appearance of the harlequin at the Blackstone was followed by another entertainment at the Oliver school under the auspices of the Girls' Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. and was preceded by performances for the Girls' club at the Wilson Bros. shirt factory and at the Battell school in Mishawaka, both sponsored by the Tuberculosis League.

The Children's dispensary also featured an appearance at the Honeycomb theater on Division st. Friday.

INDIANAPOLIS—Upon examining a former soldier to find out why he could not hear, an Indianapolis physician found a wasp of paper in the man's right ear, he reported to the American Legion. The former doughboy said he had inserted the wasp while going overseas in 1917, to keep from getting sea-sick.

DELICATE DESIGNS.—Satin and chiffon, with small delicate designs, are favored materials for simple one-piece frocks.

The tiny little house pictured above constitutes offering No. 6 in our series. It contains everything necessary to make a home complete, yet is compactly arranged, utilizing every inch of floor space to good advantage.

The exterior presents a clean-cut attractive bungalow, suggesting the sturdiness and staunchness which is really built into it. A cement walk, on a level with the main sidewalk, leads straight to the porch, which is large and well designed for appearance. The walls are smooth and white, with surfaces that are clean and bright.

The entrance door is set in a recessed porch, which is reached by a wide wooden step. The front door is set in a recessed porch, which is reached by a wide wooden step.
